Birding at Sibley State Park

Over 3,000 acres of woods, prairie and lakes make Sibley State Park a premier birding area in Central Minnesota. The park is the northwestern-most breeding location for the yellow-throated warbler in the United States. Thrushes, flycatchers, vireos, woodpeckers, swallows and many species of sparrows are commonly found in the park.

Hike to the top of Mount Tom for excellent opportunities to watch migrating hawks. Make time to visit the shores of Lake Andrew and other water bodies in the park for great opportunities to see waterfowl and marsh birds.
