Birding Opportunities at Sibley State Park

Over 3,000 acres of woods, prairie and lakes make Sibley State Park a premier birding area in Central Minnesota. Twenty-eight species of warblers use the park for resting, feeding and nesting. The park is the northwestern-most breeding location for the yellow-throated warbler in the United States. Mount Tom, at an elevation of 1,375 feet, provides an excellent spot to watch hawk migration. Lake Andrew and other water bodies are good places for observing waterfowl and marsh birds. Thrushes, fly-catchers, vireos, woodpeckers, swallows and many species of sparrows are commonly found in the park.

Season and Abundance Key

The seasons in the checklist are defined as follows:

Sp (Spring) = March, April, May

Su (Summer) = June, July

Fa (Fall) = August, September, October, November

Wi (Winter) = December, January, February

Abundance codes are defined as follows:

C = Common — present, relatively easy to find

U = Uncommon — observed, may be difficult to find

O = Occasional — may or may not be present in any year

R = Rare — has occurred at least once, may or may not be expected to recur

The names and taxonomic arrangement of species follows that of the Checklist of the Birds of Minnesota (January, 2001), prepared by the Minnesota Ornithological Records Committee.

This checklist contains the names of all birds that have been documented in the park by reliable observers. It was constructed by Robert B. Janssen and the MN DNR-Division of Parks & Recreation using observations of Mr. Janssen, park staff and other observers, as well as Minnesota Ornithologist's Union records and data contained in research reports. If you are interested in the specific sources used for a particular park, contact the Parks Division Resource Management Program Coordinator by telephone at 651-297-1158 or by mail at MNDNR-Parks, 500 Lafayette Road, Box 39 St. Paul, MN 55155-4039.
