DIRECTIONS TO AFTON STATE PARK FROM ST. PAUL: Nine miles east on I-94 then seven miles south on State Highway 95 then three miles east on County Road 20.

AFTON STATE PARK was established in 1969 to preserve unique natural features and to provide opportunities for nature-oriented recreation. Located just forty minutes east of the Twin Cities, the park offers excellent opportunities for hiking, cross-country skiing, swimming, picnicking, and hike-in camping in a quiet, natural setting. To preserve the natural character of the park, development has been kept to a minimum. The campground, swimming beach and interior of the park are accessible only by trail. The steep terrain offers challenging hiking and skiing plus the promise of a rewarding natural experience.

Afton State Park lies on the bluffs overlooking the St. Croix River. The park is cut by deep ravines which drop three hundred feet to the river. Outcrops of sandstone jut from the side of the ravines. The rugged terrain affords spectacular views of the St. Croix Valley.

Oak, aspen, birch, and cherry trees grow in the ravines and valleys of the park. The forests they form are home to a wide variety of wildlife. In spring, the woods are alive with color and song as warblers return from their winter havens. In fall, migrating hawks and eagles soar above the bluffs. In any season, spotting a fox or deer is always a test of your observation skills.

Above the forested ravines are rolling fields and pastures which attest to their previous agricultural role. Badger and redtailed hawk hunt these fields where once a vast prairie and savanna grew. A few patches of this native grassland that escaped the plow remain in the park. A program to restore and rejuvenate these valuable prairie remnants is underway.

Rolling grasslands, deep forested ravines, and the broad St. Croix River —these are only a few of a Afton State Park's natural features. For more information visit the interpretive displays in the visitor center.

VOLUNTEER PROGRAM: Afton State Park needs volunteers to assist the park staff with resource management, visitor information services and interpretive programs. If you would like to help, please contact the park manager.

SO EVERYONE CAN ENJOY THE PARK . . .
