ABOUT THE PARK

The park was created in 1931 when the family of Charles A. Lindbergh, Sr. donated 110 acres in his memory. His son, Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., flew the first trans-Atlantic solo flight. The Lindbergh house is now a historic site and the nearby Lindbergh Visitor Center showcases the lives and careers of three generations of Lindberghs.

Today, the park contains 570 acres. Pike Creek meanders through its center and empties into the Mississippi River. These water resources, along with a diverse forest, offer you a variety of experiences. Fish, paddle, hike or discover the area's rich history.

Enjoy all the park has to offer.

TRAIL HIGHLIGHTS

Hiking Club Trail

Mostly flat • Mowed grass

Hike beneath the shade of pine and oak trees as you head to the site where Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr. landed his Jenny airplane in 1923. Lindbergh bought this old World War I surplus plane, a Curtis JN-4D, and barnstormed from Georgia to Texas before heading to his parent's farm and landing it here. In the years since, trees have grown in what was once an open area.

2.4-mile loop

Little Elk Unit Trails

This unit of Charles A. Lindbergh State Park is a 3.5 mile drive north of the main unit. Travel there to see the confluence of the Little Elk and Mississippi Rivers or to hike a couple miles of trails.

MORE TO EXPLORE

- Fish the Mississippi River.
- Rent a canoe from the park office and go for a paddle on Pike Creek.
- Enjoy the seasonal changes with a hike along Pike Creek that meanders through the center of the park.
- View the nearby Weyerhaeuser Museum to learn more about Morrison County's history.

BE OUR GUEST

- Stay awhile at a drive-in campsite (electric or non-electric) or cart-in campsite. Bring family and friends for a weekend at the large group camp. Call 866-857-2757 or visit mndnr.gov/reservations to reserve your site.
- Rent the historic picnic shelter for group gatherings. This log shelter was built by the Works Projects Administration. Call the park office to reserve.
