The Root River State Trail meanders 42 miles along the Root River from Fountain to Houston. Constructed on an abandoned railroad, the trail is generally level and wheelchair accessible, except for a steep half-mile segment between Vinegar Ridge and Houston that may be challenging for some visitors. The trail portion from Isinours Forestry Unit to mile marker 37 are groomed for cross-country skiing in the winter.

The trail provides outstanding views of the soaring limestone bluffs of the Root River Valley. The trail rises and falls with the bluffs, winding through historic towns tucked into hillsides, past rolling farm fields, milling districts and relics of the railroad's heyday. Lush and verdant stretches offer views of the area's natural beauty.

Historical buildings and rural communities along the trail provide sites of interest as well as many services. Campgrounds, bed-and-breakfasts, restaurants, museums, outfitters and unique stores can be found in many of the trail towns.

The Harmony-Preston Valley State Trail is an over 22-mile, multiple use trail that connects the communities of Harmony and Preston with the Root River State Trail in southeastern Minnesota's Blufflands region. In the summer the trail is used mainly for hiking, biking and in-line skating. The trail portion from County Road 16 to the Root River State Trail junction is groomed for cross-country skiing in the winter.

The northern two-thirds of this trail is constructed on a former railroad bed and is generally level and wheelchair accessible. You'll experience a variety of wooded areas and farmland as the trail follows or crosses Watson Creek, the South Branch of the Root River, and Camp Creek, passing through a variety of wooded areas and farmland. Three fishing platforms provide access to trout fishing in Camp Creek, just outside Preston.

The southern segment between County Road 16 and Harmony/to Couty Road 30 was not constructed on an abandoned railroad bed and is more challenging. It climbs out of the river valley and travels along the ridgeline between the valleys. It includes a strenuous incline that may not be suitable for all users.
