

Blue Mounds State Park Today and Tomorrow

Blue Mounds State Park is a statewide resource attracting visitors from all over AND a local economic engine.

- Blue Mounds State Park adds nearly $340,000 to the local economy.
- Several state threatened and endangered species live in the park, a treasure for all Minnesotans.

Blue Mounds State Park was established in 1961 to protect the state-significant remnant tallgrass prairie and quartzite cliffline.

Hiking, rock climbing and bison viewing are among the most popular activities with potential to attract new visitors.
