ABOUT THE PARK

Forestville/ Mystery Cave State Park is one of the most diverse state parks in Minnesota. The park protects striking limestone bluffs and numerous karst features such as caves, sinkholes and springs. Take trails through closed canopy forests, oak woodlands and meadows. View remnant stands of native white pine dotting the slopes and rare pockets of balsam fir and Canada yew persevering on cool, north-facing bluffs. Anglers will enjoy the three sparkling trout streams that converge in the park. Tour an 1850s frontier village or Minnesota's longest known cave, both unique features for which the park was named. Stop in for the day or stay awhile by reserving a campsite, horse camp, group camp or camper cabin. Return in winter to snowshoe, fish or ski on rustic backcountry trails.

Anglers and visitors delight in the park's cool, clear streams.

TRAIL HIGHLIGHTS

Palisade Trail

Some hills • Packed dirt • Grass

Walk down to valley elevation along the South Branch Root River as it flows past sheer limestone cliffs. Pass small oxbow ponds with outstanding bird and amphibian habitat. Enjoy excellent access for trout angling.

1-mile loop

Sandbank Trail to Scenic Overlook

Some hills • Crushed rock • Packed dirt

Hike from Historic Forestville up a long gradual slope to a ridge with sweeping views of blufflands landscape. Return the way you came or continue to the Oak Ridge Trail for a 3-mile loop.

1 mile one-way

Big Spring Trail

Steep terrain • Crushed rock • Wooden bridges • Stream crossing

From the angler's lot, this trail drops into the valley and crosses the South Branch Root River. From there, follow Canfield Creek upstream to its source: the Big Spring. The limestone escarpment above the spring is habitat for boreal plants like balsam fir and other cold-loving species.

2 miles one-way

Maple Ridge Trail (Hiking Club Trail)

Some hills • Crushed rock • Packed dirt

Hike from the amphitheater or angler's lot to encounter a variety of woodland habitats, including a beautiful and shaded maple forest.

2-mile loop
