

Permit for the Take of Endangered or Threatened Species to Prevent Injury to People or Property

Permit Application

An application for a permit for prevention of injury to people or property must include the following:

- Name, street address, phone number and email address of the applicant
- Endangered or threatened species proposed for taking
- Number of individual specimens that would be taken
- Location and date of proposed taking
- Method of proposed taking
- Description of circumstances in which the species has the potential to cause injury to people or property
- Description of actions already taken to avoid and minimize the potential for injury to people or property

Annual Report

Permits required submission of an annual report to the DNR. Failure to submit the report may result in denial of future permit requests.

Criteria for Reviewing Permit Application

- The application provides convincing evidence of the potential for injury to people or property.
- The application demonstrates that all alternatives to take have been considered and rejected.

Submit Permit Application
