Wildlife Manager Report

Deer Permit Area (DPA) 111 consists mostly of large tracts of forest that support deer but do not always provide quality deer habitat. Historically, most of the ungulate biomass in DPA 111 would have been comprised of moose, caribou, and elk. Since 2008, occasional severe winters have prevented the deer population in this permit area from fully rebounding, despite consistently conservative seasons. After a mild winter last year, the hope is that another year of Bucks-Only designation will allow this population to grow.
